Description :

PDF-43c47 | During World War I, as many as half a million southern African Americans permanently left the South to create new homes and lives in the urban North, and hundreds of thousands more would follow in the 1920s. This dramatic transformation in the lives of many black Americans involved more than geography: the increasingly visible “New Negro” and the intensification of grassroots black activism in... Black Protest and the Great Migration: A Brief History with Documents (The Bedford Series in History and Culture)
